

RUSSIAN ATHLETES START YOUNG

Russia starts training her athletes and P.T. experts at an early age. These youngsters at a forest camp near Moscow are preparing for the Tournament of the Nations of the U.S.S.R. to be held in the capital in August. This is Tamara Sevost Yarnova, she's still a schoolgirl, but already she's won several prizes at adult championship meetings, and a number of Moscow athletic title as well.

Tamara Pedosova performing exercises on the mat. All these boys and girls are members of the Young Pioneers Sport Organization attached to Moscow Stadium.

Here are two eight-year-olds named Ukhov and ^{FOROLEV} Porehloyev. Don't ask us which is which, because no sooner have you sorted one out than the other one's on top. The training system seems to work, anyway new athletes are simply rolling out!