SWISS GRENADIERS' SCHOOL
Dupenegative developed 16 meters = 60 it

The Grenadiers' School in Losone in the Tessin province in Switzerland is one of the most efficient in this country. The training program is a training for courage, and men and officers are undergoing the same tests. Even if the period of training is short, it has to be thorough.

The Infantry grenadiers must be a complete unit. Their knowledge enable them to manage duties ordinarily done by other units for exemple, in five minutes they can build a bridge with ready-made steel elements/

The assault units of Grenadiers are specialists for fighting tanks and armored cars, their equipment is most modern. A TNT shot finishes a damaged tank, the flame-throwers help in action. Meanwhile the men hidden await the right time for final assault. Difficult ground action, with a 40 Kilos pack or equipment on their shoulders is no easy business, but even difficult terrain can become an asset when you have the know-how to use it...

Fire throwers are very useful in street fighting and house-to-house combat. The swiss grenadiers are specialists of this difficult action. Perfect cohesion in action makes such units extremely important as shown in the recent Hungarian revolt...

The aim of this special Losone School is to form perfect soldiers, well trained, with absolute cohesion and intelligent courage in modern warfare.
