

UNRRA AIDS GAZA REFUGEES.

Life returns slowly to normal in Gaza under the Israeli occupation; Arab inhabitants accept the situation philosophically. But at Shik el Arish, there has been much underground Egyptian activity, and Israeli patrols carry out a house-to-house search, checking identities to guard against hostile infiltration.

UNRRA has taken over the care of thousands of refugees living in the Gaza suburbs. Food supplies arrive regularly, and milk is issued three times a week, so much for each member of the family. How much of the family ration finds its way home is anybody's guess! As collection is left to the children. Milk is a luxury to them and who can blame them for a taste before getting home!
