HUNGARIAN WEDDING NEAR PARIS

Positive developed : 15 meters - 50 ft
also covered by Gaumont and Fox

Two Hungarian dancers couples were married here last week in a lovely suburb village along the Marne River, and famous theater, motion picture and world stars were present at the wedding which was a "real Hungarian style" one with national costumes, czardas and traditional bread, salt offers.

After the civilian official wedding in the tiny Chennaviere-sur-Marne townhall overcrowded by illustrious guests and photographers, the two new couples (Mihaly Zsely who was married to Maria Lacska, and Laszlo Orvath who was married to Margit Dravues) came by river barge to the famous Lovers' Island for the Hungarian lunch and following dances.

The two Hungarian couples are from the famous Hungarian Ballets Company at present giving their performances in Paris. Among the guests INGRID BERGMAN had a wild dance with the hungarian dances, while LINE RENAUD was also testing her skill at giddy Czardas.

Witnesses to the wedding were Serge Lifar, Yvette Chauvire Michel Auclair, Ingrid Bergman, Line Renaud, Dr. Soubiran, Pierre-Jean Vaillard and Jacques Angelvin.
