B.R.M.' SILVERSTONE VICTORY:

At Silverstone pits, three of the much-maligned B.R.M.s, with a team of drivers led by French champion Jean Behra, get ready to confound their critics in the Daily Express International Trophy Race. Here's Masten Gregory, Maserati, and Behra's team-mate Ron Flockhart. Third B.R.M. driver is American Harry Schell - their race numbers are 6, 7, and 8, and they take the front row of the starting grid - thanks to decisive victories in the heats.

From the very first lap, the British cars prove that their success in the heats was no flash in the pan. Behra sweeps into the lead and stays there, followed closely by Schell and Flockhart. After years of set-back, the B.R.M. pits have their hearts in their mouths - but they needn't worry - the cars to which so many hopes were pinned are justifying them at last.

There goes Ron Flockhart, still lying third with the Maseratis well behind him, and Behra passing the pits for the last time. He's smashed Stirling Moss's lap record on the way, and he's got more than two miles in hand as he flashes over the line! So it's B.R.M.s first, second, and third - a triumph at last!
