MUNICH BEER FESTIVAL:

Munich's annual beer festival starts in September, but that leaves so few drinking days to Christmas, that they call it the October Festival to be on the safe side. It's October by the time the band is really warmed up, anyway. The Festival has a motto - "Existence is hard, but life is beautiful". Don't bother to work it out - just grab a chicken and get cracking.

Something else to work out; the Germans call a fair-ground a "bird-meadow", Wonder why?

After a first few litres of beer, you can take this sort of thing in your stride....I think....Hey, stop the beat!

That's better. You only have to concentrate and everything settles down nicely. I said concentrate!

See what I mean? Pardon me, sir, can you tell us what month it is? October? It can't be! What happened to September? Somebody's swiped September!
