

WAR VETERANS OF MANY LANDS:

Ex-servicemen of many lands applaud former French President Vincent Auriol as he opens the General Convention of the International Veterans' League in Berlin. West Berlin President Theodor Heuss inspects a display of work by disabled ex-servicemen in the East Prussia Hall - proof of the self-reliance of these courageous men who will not succumb to their handicaps.

Dr. Heuss watches several disabled veterans actually at work - some on machines adapted for their use, others with artificial limbs designed for the job they have chosen to do.

Their injuries are many and tragic - but these men who know what war means all have one thing in common; a determination to make their contribution to the world of peace.
