

News of the Day
December 5, 1957, Vol. 29-231

LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMP
RETAINS TITLE!

At Chicago Stadium it's the World Lightweight title fight between defending champ Joe Brown, white trunks, and Joey Lopes. News of the Day cameras are at ringside to bring you the close-up action. Lopes is carrying the battle to Brown in the early rounds.

The California challenger scores repeatedly.

Seventh round. Brown, always a slow starter, now opens up with his heavier punching. The Champ, a four to one favorite in this match, gets the range with a right directly on the target. Despite the knockdown Joey comes back full of fight.

The eleventh round. The Champ is waiting for that big opening.

Brown connects, down goes Lopes.

Full of fighting spirit, Lopes is back in the fray. But Brown is ready to deliver, and he does. A solid right to the head drops Joey again.

With Lopes virtually helpless, his second rushes into the ring as referee Joey White stops the bout. Joe Brown wins on a TKO - his third successful defense of his world Lightweight title.