

SCUNTHORPE v. LIVERPOOL:

Hundred per cent captie atmosphere at the Old Show Ground. All Scunthorpe turned out to see United battle against Liverpool. Davis set the ball rolling, Scunthorpe having lost the toss. Liverpool playing in white shirts. The home side were all out to uphold the honour of Division Three North, hoping to bear the Liverpudlians as decisively as they did Newcastle. Liverpool were all at sea in the bad conditions. What attacks they did start came to nothing.

Scunthorpe inside-man Waldoak raised hopes when he put the ball across to Eric Davis, but the centre forward shot wide. How right you are, Sir. Liverpool retaliated. Alan A'Court promised well on the left wing, only to find that his team-mates couldn't cope with the slippery ground.

Liverpool bucked up a bit towards half-time. However, when they kicked off to open the second half there was still no score. Alan A'Court (Liverpool Outside Left) put the ball across to Outside right Binson. His good scoring effort was parried by Hardwick and Scunthorpe breathed again. Once more Hardwick saved from Binson. Now came the goal that put Liverpool into Round Six. A'Court centred and was half cleared by right half Marshall. Then Billy Liddell's shot hit the post. It went to Murdoch. The Inside-right made no mistake.

There was still 15 minutes play left. Galliant Scunthorpe did all they could to equalise, but Younger was safe in the Liverpool Goal. Liverpool almost got another in the closing minutes. Again Murdoch was the danger man. But the match ended, Liverpool 1 - Scunthorpe nil.

FULHAM v. WEST HAM:

Fulham in White Shirts, kicked off at Upton Park in the London Fifth Round Derby against West Ham. Nearly 38,000 sent the gate money soaring above £5,000. There was an amazing start. Fulham Left-Back, Langley let in West Ham Right Winger, Mike Grice, and the hammers were one-up.

Fulham equalised eight minutes later. And it was their Outside-right Roy Dwight who scored, lobbing the ball over Gregory's head.

If two London teams had to clash at this stage, it made a peach of a draw. Intense rivalry and both West Ham and Fulham battling for promotion at the same time. Second half. West Ham kick off. The Score still one-all.

West Ham went storming into the Fulham goal area. Inside-Right Lewis found why Tony Macedo is known to Fulham fans as "the Kock of Gibraltar".

That great artist Haynes put Dwight in possession. The Outside-Right centred to Hill and Fulham were in the lead.

West Ham came back. Again their brilliant Outside-Right Mike Grice looked like going through. Langley brought him down. Penalty.

Right-back Bond scored from the spot. Two-all.

It was still anybody's game. But now Fulham were proving the cleverer side. In the West Ham goal Gregory had his work cut out...

Fulham Inside-right Hill was the next to test Gregory. Then at the other end Fulham had an anxious moment. Fortunately for them Tony Macedo was still safe as the Rock itself. At last came the winning goal. The incomparable Haynes took a pass from Chalmerlain and slipped the ball into the net.

So it's Fulham who go into Round Six.

ROVERS BEAT CITY:

It was Bristol Rovers (in quartered shirts) kicking off against Bristol City in the biggest local derby of Round Five. Close on 40,000 saw a game which, for sheer excitement, beat anything they remember. City Outside-right Hinshelwood started the move that brought the first goal of this astounding match. He made ground before sending the ball to Atyeo, but it was Watkins who scored.

The game was well settled down before Rovers equalised. Their outside-left Hooper beat Terris, passed to Sykes and the right-half scored.

City tried hard to regain the lead but Treaher's free kick had no difficulties for Nicholls. He put the ball back into the City half.

Rover's outside-right Petherbridge put over a centre which Anderson only partly cleared. Inside-left Ward shot low into the net near the post. Rovers two, City one.

There was no stopping Rovers now. Outside left Hooper's shot was parried by Anderson but Meyer scored.

Second half. Bristol City, leading 1 - 3 at this stage, were a team transformed after the interval. For some time they dominated the Rovers.

City's revival was begun by their inside-left Etheridge. His terrific shot had Nicholls helpless. City two, Rovers three.

Forty-thousand people were on their toes. What game it was. For a time it seemed that nothing could stop Bristol City. How well they deserved the equaliser when it came their way. Left-half Burden sent a cracking shot past Nicholls. It was three-all.

Another spectacular save by Nicholls.

There was still seven minutes to go. Bristol fans had never seen anything to compare with this. Rovers attacked. City defence let Ward through. He passed to Bradford. The Centre-Forward scored the winning goal. By four to three in an unforgettable game Bristol Rovers won through into the Sixth Round.
