

HATS FOR SPRINGTIME

Do you want to know what'll be going to your head this spring, ladies? Here it is, at a show organised by London milliners. No, not too expensive - "Cafe-au-lait", in wild cat wool fur, is 57/11 - though if you do feel like lashing out, "Rose Chiffon" will set you back 19½ guineas. Styles are varied this year - over the brow, off the face, to one side - whichever suits you best. This one, "Ragtime", is 57/11. Or slightly more expensive again - "Rose Bouquet", 4½ guineas.

"Retton Row", on the left, and "Trilby" on the right, both cost under two pounds. Too cheap? All right, how about the most expensive hat in the show - "Pink Champagne" - a shell-like plateau shape covered with blue and pink osprey? only 40 guineas, madame!
