

MANCHESTER UNITED - V.F.A.A.

Nobody dares to call the new Manchester United a "scratch team" any longer - and when skippers Billy Foulkes and Ray Barlow toss up for the replay with West Bromwich Albion (in the plain shirts) play their third Cup Tie since the Munich tragedy which everybody thought had finished their Cup chances. And from the start, the game is fast and furious!

United take a free kick - Colin Webster jumps, Pearson runs in - but the Albion defence get it clear. In mid-field, last-minute replacement Bobby Harrop passes to Dawson, Kennedy blocks it - a shot! but Jim Sanders saves.

Whitehouse makes for the Manchester goal - Greaves takes it from him - but United lose it again, back to Whitehouse. Munich survivors Harry Gregg, in goal, and skipper Billy Foulkes at full back, are rock-like in defence.

Manchester attacking - Dawson shoots - but goalie Jim Sanders steps it, and then runs out to clear.

Second half, and still no score. The seasoned warriors from West Bromwich are playing text-book football - but it's not enough to overcome the sheer fighting spirit of Busby's Babes. And every time an Albion attack reaches the United goal, the redoubtable Harry Gregg's there to hold it.

And again!

Not many minutes to go - and United are fighting with everything they've got. Some very near misses bring the crowd's excitement to fever-pitch.

Sanders throws clear - and Albion are on the move again.

A sizzler - but Gregg saves magnificently!

Back towards the Albion goal - there's less than a minute left, and it looks like extra time! But here's Bobby Charlton racing in - he flicks across - and Colin Webster scores!

Old Trafford's never heard anything like it - and 60,000 people will never forget it as long as they live!
