

SHOE SHOW IN BOLOGNA

Takes place in Bologna the National Shoe Show.

130 exhibitors took part with their models of every kind, from which emerges a problem: high or low heel? Fashion apparently dictates both. Another dilemma: shoe pointed or not?

Models are even inspired to the popular air "Blue painted blue" the winner of the latest Sanremo festival.

Here are plenty of lovely shoes: shoes recalling Charleston dance, shoes refined, fanciful for theater, shoes with reinforced heels and still better, spare heels.

Low heeled shoes appreciated by walkers

By the now-a-day fashionable chain is successfully reached the highest heeled shoe.

Top novelty: the eyed shoe!
