

GIRL GOLFER.

Chuck Lewis, an American trick shot specialist, can't teach his six-year-old daughter Linda much more about hitting a golf ball. Some people spend all their lives trying to do as well as this - but it's child's play to Linda, the youngest pro in the world.

Plain or fancy; Linda never misses.

She's just as good on the green.

And to show his confidence in his daughter, Pop takes the tee in his mouth.

Here's one girl at least who takes no lip from Dad!
