

PRINCESS MARGARET AT THE MANSION HOUSE:

Princess Margaret comes to the Mansion House for a "welcome-home" reception from the City of London after her Caribbean tour. The Lord Mayor, Sir Denis Truscott, speaks of the immense service she has done to the Commonwealth in strengthening the ties with the Crown. Mr. R.A. Butler, is one of the 650 guests at an event which, in spite of the formal surroundings, recaptures something of the light-hearted atmosphere of those islands in the sun.

"An example of how well travelled I am becoming, is that when people now talk to me of Scarborough, my mind turns less naturally to the North Riding, than to Tobago".

(Laughter)

"Today the West Indies looks forward to becoming a fully self-governing member of the Commonwealth, and I feel very proud that I was able to play a part towards this end and to have assisted in the foundation of this great and exciting federation".
