The Chicken Test

The Wine Institute of Würzburg, origin of the famous "Stone"-wines, has introduced a most novel laboratory-test: the living fowl.

The Institute has one sole target - to safeguard and improve the quality of the famous wines. In our times anything could happen to a traditionally excellent wine. For instance- the vines are treated with anti-lice chemicals. Some of the chemical substance could by some evil chance find its way into the grapes and then into the wine itself. The quality of the product would be endangered. This is now impossible.

Thanks to the novel checking-method introduced by the Würzburg Institute no such mishaps are thinkable. The reaction of the delicate chicken-liver is the secret.

From time to time blood-checks are made. The chickens - as our story illustrates - just love to sip the wine. Some of them like merry human beings even become addicted to the tasty test-liquid! Their well-being, however, guarantees the quality of the wine and the well-being of the numerous connoisseurs of stone-wines!
