MONZA AUTORACE

The 4250-Km (2,6-mile) high speed track of Monza is composed of two straight stretches and two heightened curves: the track is 12-meter wide.

Owing to the high speed averages here attained, the Monza circuit is qualified the speediest autodrome in the world.

This year the Monza 500-miler was particularly interesting for the concourse of the best American and European tracks' drivers.

American pilot Jim RATHMANN won triumphantly and fully the three-manche autorace, heading most of time at the wheel of his "Zink Leader Special.

The European drivers have nevertheless worthily competed with the Indianapolis ace, seizing the third place with the Ferrari driven by Musso-Hill-Hawthorn.
