

SPORTSMEN HONOURED:

It's Honours Day for sportsmen at Buckingham Palace. Matt Busby, popular and plucky manager of Manchester United, leaves with his wife, and son after receiving his C.B.E. Because of the Queen's illness, the Queen Mother presented it to him - and wished him the very best of luck.

Another sporting headline-maker gets the C.B.E. - Dai Rees, the Ryder Cup team captain who put our golfers back on the map. Mrs. Rees is with him.

And there's an M.B.E. for Hogan Kid Bassey, world feather-weight boxing champion. With Hogan and his wife is that other very well known fighter, from Liverpool - Bessie Braddock, M.P. - Three men who have done a great deal for British sport - all honoured on the same day.
