Autoraces on the Ice

Automobile racers and ski-aces came to participate in the Professor Porsche Memorial Ice Races in Zell am See.

The customary Scandinavian ski-jöring behind horses and reindeer was modified here in a most modern manner.

But the speeds were greater with out the skiers. German ace-drivers such as Richard von Frankenberg and Huschke von Hanstein were at the start.

The one-armed ace-driver Otto Mathé from Innsbruck was again winner of the memorial race.
