

INDOOR MILE SETS RECORD.

High spot of the Knights of Columbus games in New York was the Mile. These indoor athletics are the rage in the States.

From the start Peter Close, of St. John's, led from Barrie Almond, of Houston University. Lying third was Ireland's marvel Hon Delany, fourth the Hungarian champ, Rosavolgy. Delany has run the indoor mile 37 times without being beaten, but he looks to be in danger as Rosavolgy streaks ahead with sprinter speed. Delany knows he has to give all he's got. He does so, but at this stage, it doesn't look enough. The flying Hungarian runs as if no one can possibly catch him.

Final lap. And Delany makes the supreme effort. He's closing the gap. Can he do it? Yes, the incredible Irishman draws level, and wins in the last two strides.

A new indoor record; 4 minutes, one-and-two-fifths. Brave, Delany. Another triumph for the Miling Irishman.
