

REVOLT IN TIBET.

From remote, mysterious Tibet - reports as shrouded in mystery as the country itself - news of an uprising against Chinese Communist rule. The young Dalai Lama, revered by his people as a living Buddha, was reported under arrest by the Reds - but, according to other sources, is safely in hiding. Some accounts say the anti-Communist revolt has even spread into two Chinese provinces. One clear fact; Red tyranny is not wanted by these intensely religious people.
