Olympic Preparations

Our cameraman took advantage of a stay in Italy to pay a "blitz" visit to the scene of the next Olympic Games in Rome.

This is what he saw:

Preparations are well underway and the Italians are obviously making an excellent and imposing job!

Our coverage includes:

The Velodrome Olimpico - seating 25,000 cycling-fans

The Olympic Stadium - seating 100,000

A typical Roman scene - a group of young men attired in black - they are priests and scholars - inspecting the Stadium.

The Stadio del Marmi - an imposing forum with figures of marble for hockey etc.

The Stadio del Nuotto - the swimming stadium

The Stadio Flaminio - seating 55,000 for soccer

The Pallasetto del Sport - seating 18,000 - and the smaller one seating 5,000 for boxing, gymnastics etc.

Athletes all over the world can be assured that all is being done in Rome to ensure the success of the Olympic Games 1960.
