

News of the Day

April 23, 1959, Vol. 30-271

HERTER SWORN IN AT WHITE HOUSE!

At a White House ceremony - proudly witnessed by his family - Christian A. Herter is sworn in as Secretary of State. President Eisenhower stands by while the former Massachusetts Governor takes the oath of office to succeed John Foster Dulles. The President welcomes Herter to his cabinet, praising him as the best qualified man to take on the crucial job of steering U.S. foreign policy. Leading Senators, fellow cabinet members and other top officials add their congratulations to Herter and his family. And the new Secretary receives from Mrs. Dulles the best wishes of her ailing husband. Vice-President Nixon also says a word of welcome and encouragement.

Afterwards, some 600 State Department employees applaud Herter as he goes to his new office. It's a heart-warming welcome from his subordinates - for the man who takes over one of the world's toughest jobs.