

MEET MISS AND MRS. AMERICA.

Beauty in all its glory was seen when local winners came to the Final in the shapely contest for Miss America. Of the last five, Martha Brannon got the verdict. She's from South Carolina, and even her own sex conceded she's really lovely. She certainly clicked with the cameramen. If she's a "miss" much longer, the American male must be slipping. Now, in Florida, a contest for Mrs. America; and the winner this time was pretty Margaret Priebe, of Iowa. The young matrons showed they can hold their own with the unmarried girls in the beauty stakes. Who'd ever guess that Margaret is a mother of four. Part of the prize will be a trip of South America. But this model woman still insists on giving her husband breakfast in bed. In every way she's quite a wife.
