Passion Village Oberammergau

The famous Passion-Play, performed every ten years according to a vow of the villagers of Oberammergau during a plague, is due again next year.

The villagers are preparing earnestly for the play and there are beards galore to be seen on the way home from church. Discussion on "Who's Who" go on in the village.

On the day when the individual performers were chosen for the main parts in the play, our cameraman visited the Passion Village. Here are the portraits of the men and women who were elected for the leading parts of next year's presentation.
