

STARS AND HORSES.

The Variety Club of Great Britain think up something new for Children's Charities; this time it's their own race meeting at Sandown Park, with such stars as Carole Lealey, Jackie Rae, and Janette Scott here to make it look more like a premiere than a turf event - though the horses steal their full share of the limelight.

George Baker, with Monty Berman, and Mrs. Baker.

For some people, it's business as usual - but with Jayne Mansfield and husband Mike Magarty distracting the customers and even demanding the bookmaker's money, well you have to be pretty tough to say "No".

On parade for the Daily Mirror "Nursery Handicap", one mile, for two-year-olds. Let's have a look at the form. Why, hullo there, Gina! What's your money on - "Running Blue", perhaps? Or maybe "Prince Rick", the favourite? Not much time to make up your mind.

Well, if she chose Running Blue, she'll be smiling now - the filly(s) leading "Boyberto" down the straight and looking quite comfortable, thank you. Yes, it's Running Blue, with inches to spare. The favourite's third - so now the bookies'll have more money to spare for Jayne.

Janette Scott presents the cup. But the day's real winners are Children's Charities - by some £15,000.
