

WRAP UP, YOU DOGS.

The smart woman must not be let down by an untidy looking pet. So the most fashionable dogs in Paris, with owners, came to see the winter collection of Jacques Heduy, the doggies' Dior. Ha: Waistline increasing. Too many chocolates, perhaps. Two more fittings after this, and it'll be ready for him. To be both smart and warm - that's the aim in winter.

The great Heduy himself adds the buttons, and the creation is perfect, sir, is it not? What the best dressed pet wears must match his mistress's own outfit. If the dog doesn't like it, she'll have to wear something else. Otherwise it's sheer cruelty to animals.

These dachshunds - what a length of material they do want:

A Boxer, being tried on with a track suit. Just the thing for this new stunt, the long marching contest. Dogs come in so many shapes and sizes they give wonderful scope to the fashion designer. Women themselves may soon have to be content with a long lead and a leather collar. See you in the Dog House!
