Overheated Drivers and Cold Engines

Mr. Everybody - now popularly styled as "Mr.VW" - was late and very much in a hurry. But alas, it had been snowing all night long and the cars, parked under the road-ramps, were snowed under. Mr. VW cleared the window-pane. My goodness - it was the wrong car - and a kissing couple under the snow-capped car.

That is the right car. Now - let's hurry - it is getting later and later .....

Further trouble! - the lock is frozen. The lighter helps. Now - off we go.... no - the ignition won't work! It had been the coldest night on record and no wonder the VW and his master could not get together!

No use - let's take a taxi!

An early morning adventure anybody could have with any car!
