INUNDATION.-

The northern part of Amsterdam is still a great water-pool with here and there some furniture drifting along the dikes, but people are working hard to make the polder dry.

Especially the men and women of the Salvation Army, serving warm drinks for those, who are working in the cold.

The draining of the polder immediately after closing the hole in the dike, is still going on.

More pistons and pump-installations are inserted. The water is falling 1 centimetre an hour.

With the co-operation of the county water-police we could enter the inundated ~~xxxxxx~~ area. Only now we got an impression of the chaos in the houses. This is the situation in 2700 houses.

Just look in the inundated houses, how the water has damaged the stores with their articles.

Members of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals went to the inundated village to place the remaining animals in security. Cars are damaged by ferrying boats. Next week people will return to their houses.
