

JET BOAT IS TOPS.

There's a new attraction at Cypress Gardens; a boat whose jet power also steers it. That winter playground in Florida has gone in for it in a big way. They're fascinated, making it do a right-about-turn, going all out. As it only draws three inches of water it can go practically anywhere.

The jet pleasure boat idea was first tried out in England by Donald Campbell, last December. He said it has a terrific future. Certainly it's caught on in America in quick time. As it has no prop or rudder to get bent, the boat comes up on dry land without harm.

And as it's Florida, there's a kind of reception committee any sailor knows just how to deal with.
