MANCHESTER UNITED V. SHEFFIELD
WEDNESDAY.

As Manchester United kicked off at Old Trafford, what a game this promised to be. United, at home before 66,000 and already testing Springett, Sheffield Wednesday goalkeeper. Wednesday in striped shirts. Surely the star match of the Fifth Round, F.A. Cup. Fantham, the Sheffield inside-left, shot too high in an early effort. Then his wing man, Young, passed inside, but the ball went over, another escape for United.

United outside-right, Bradley, made ground and then put the ball into the goal mouth, an unpleasant moment for Sheffield, Springett especially. No goals at half time. Bobby Charlton looked like scoring soon after the interval, and then it was Wednesday's turn to breathe a sigh of relief. And so it went on, narrow escapes for both sides, but so far not a single goal.

When it began it look like a goalless draw United's new acquisition, Setters, brought down Fantham very heavily. Penalty for Sheffield Wednesday.

McArdney scored.

Try as Manchester United would, they simply could not score. By a penalty goal Sheffield Wednesday won the match.
