

FASHIONS FROM ITALY.

Italy's ambition to lead the world in fashions comes nearer to fulfillment every year. Marucelli's collection was shown at Milan to an international audience, which included representatives from the famous Haute Couture establishments of Paris itself.

When it comes to fashions nowadays there are faint stirrings in the male sex. But men have no waists to be moved up or down, I mean, 39,39,39, doesn't excite anybody, does it?

There'll be plenty to look at on the Continental beaches next summer, obviously. It looks as if Paris really has to pull her socks up, if the Italians are to be kept in second place in the world of fashion.
