WOLVES BEAT LEICESTER.

Leicester City at home to Wolves whose Captain, Salter won the toss, and 39,000 saw the game begin. Leicester (white shorts) playing from left to right. City supporters hoped the advantage of playing at home might carry them through the Semi-Final, and it was Geoff Sidebottom, in Wolves' goal, who was the first custodian tested.

For Wolves, Flowers, Clamp and Slater dominated at half-back. Clamp passed to Broadbent and that brilliant inside-right scored.

Wolves intensified their attack, stimulated by that early goal. Mason nearly got another.

Then tragedy for Leicester. Wolves centre-forward Barry Stobart lobbed the ball in the middle, and right-back Chalmers headed into his own goal.

Two down, Leicester now placed with as much dash, as if they were in the lead. Cheeseborough crossed the ball to MacDonald; goal for Leicester.

Leicester were very much back in the game, but Wolves fans were jubilant. Deeley soon tested Banks when Wanderers put on the pressure in the second half, determined to hang on to their two-one lead. It wasn't high-class football by a long way; much of it just Cup Tie stuff, more vigour than skill. Wolves did all they could to increase their lead, but neither side could score this half. Near the close only the brilliance of Sidebottom kept Leicester out, but it was Wolves who won-through....
