

WOLVES V. VILLA.

Saward tossed the coin, Wolves captain called correctly, and 56,000 at the Hawthorns saw the Villa-Wolverhampton semi final begin. Showell cleared an early Villa attack, and with Cuptie-cum-local Derby vigour in evidence, both sides went all out for an early goal. That England class inside left Peter Broadbent switched the attack to his wing man and Sims did well to save Deeley's shot.

Left half Flowers now tried Wolves' luck on the right wing. The ball went to Murray, and this looked very dangerous for Villa. After a partial clearance Deeley scored. Wolves were a goal up.

Half-time; Wolves, led one-nil. On the resumption Villa tried to get level, but without the desired result. And at the other end the new youngster Mannion was prominent. Unsuccessful that time he began another attack. Again no luck for Wolverhampton. Nigel Sims kept them out. So by the only goal of the match, Wolves booked their passage to the Final.
