

MINORS TO RESCUE.

A.B.C. Minors from Birmingham were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Chimp to Belle Vue Zoo, Manchester. Recently some boys destroyed more than 30 birds in the Zoo, and the Minors made up their minds to welcome the replacements. It shows that most children were horrified to hear about what happened at Belle Vue.

Among the newcomers were two Rock Hopper Penguins. The little strangers had had a long journey and were a bit confused to be in the open again.

The new arrivals were at home in no time. To the Minors who welcomed them to Belle Vue, Aunt Mary the Elephant gave free rides. A gift from the kiddies was a lovely cake, specially baked for Nicholas the Hippo. Nicholas was very sorry when the boys killed all those birds, but he just had to eat that cake. It's an ill wind, after all.
