

TEST FOR OLYMPICS.

The Women's Hundred Metres, in the British Games, promoted by "News of the World"; the last chance for many spectators to see Olympic choices in action. Well deserved victory in this race went to the flying wonder, Dorothy Hyman. In 11-point-8. Best of luck in Rome. Then, another Hundred Metres; men this time. With all eyes on the Birchfield Harriers' marvel, Peter Radford, who took the lead from Agostini of Trinidad, and was first home in 10-point-5 seconds. Just a warm-up for Rome.

Mary Bignal, as usual, had no difficulty in winning the long jump; 20 feet, 3-and-three-quarter inches.

There was added interest in the 800 Metres. Brian Hewson No.2, was running against doctor's orders, a calf muscle still troubling him. But the selectors wanted to see him, so he had to run, if he was to be chosen for Rome. D.I.B. Smith, New Zealand, took the lead from E. Wenk, and had the race in the bag, in one minute, 49-point-two. And now news that Brian Hewson WILL go to Rome; meanwhile, cheers for the gallant Smith.

The Women's 80-Metres Hurdles. Another chance for the versatile Mary Bignal, No.1.

Well, there's a girl a gold medal would really suit.
