DOWN BEAT KERRY.

60/79.

The rival fifteens of Kerry and Down paraded at Crokes Park, Dublin, in the All-Ireland Senior Final. Archbishop Morris started the game. 88,000 people saw a brisk opening. Kerry kicked from right to left. But Down were undaunted by the great cup reputation of their opponents and Hadden soon had a point on the board.

In this game (half soccer half rucker) over the bar counts one point, in the net three. Kerry equalized.

Kerry have won the final 19 times. If they were beaten now it would be the first time the Cup had gone to Northern Ireland. Over the bar from the free kick; another point for Kerry. At the other end Culloty cleared the Kerry goal. The ball went to the Down mid-fielder, Lennon. He decided to kick for goal and sent the ball between the posts; two all.

Lennon got another attack going, with the result that Hadden scored another point. At half time Down led 7-5.

Kerry began the second half determined to wipe out the deficit and build up a good lead for themselves. They soon earned a welcome point, O'Connell putting the ball over.

Down began to hit back. Deherty looked like going through, only to be roughly brought down. It was in the fatal area, so Kerry were penalised.

Deherty scored. Three points for one in the net. Seven points-all and still anybody's game. Soon afterwards Down scored three more points, Kerry one point. Kerry were desperate. Dowling passed to Sheehy. His shot went wide, and Down won 10-8. Archbishop Morris presented the trophy to Mussen. Filled with whisky, what a wonderful celebration it would be.
