

IMAGINE COMING HOME TO AN UPSIDE-DOWN HOUSE!

West of Fort Lauderdale, Florida, they've come up with a new angle on real estate promotion. New angle? Man, it's upside down! Everything about it is upside down! The reason for this topsy-turvy home is simple -- to attract customers for right-side-up houses in Sunrise Golf Village. The developers are more than satisfied with the results so far. And they expect half a million visitors to inspect the place in a year's time. The only thing, it can get a bit bewildering. After a while you're not sure which way is up. And, while the house has a fully furnished bedroom, all right, you couldn't exactly call it restful! For downright imagination, though, you could hardly beat this idea!
