HORSE OF THE YEAR.

Horse of the Year? Well no, not this one. He's Champion Donkey, OLD DEAKS BUSTER, in the Equestrian Personalities Parade, like the Arab Stallion CONAR, which the Jordanian C-in-C. presented to the Queen Mother. And what a fine personality is AVENING FLORIAN III, one of the smallest Shetland ponies bred.

Something a little larger; a champion Suffolk Stallion. Now a racehorse. Gradwell, winner of fifty races; seven on the flat, 43 under National Hunt Rules.

Now a welcome to an Australian, SALAD DAYS, a 7-year-old brown gelding, double gold medal winner in the Olympic Games.

Pet Smythe rode Telebras in the Fred Foster Memorial Competition.

In the same event, Captain d'Insee of Italy, Olympic Gold Medalist, was up on Psallipe.

D'Insee is a fine rider, but even he couldn't clear the great jumps without fault.

David Broome was in great form on Sunlave.

Only the high wall now between Broome and a clear round. He's over. And that makes him winner of the Fred Foster Memorial Competition. That great sportsman, the Duchess of Norfolk, presented the Trophy.
