

NEWS OF THE DAY
VOL. 32-218
OCTOBER 17, 1960

QUEMOY, MATSU DEBATE PUTS FOCUS ON FORMOSA

The concern in America over the Chinese offshore islands puts the spotlight on Formosa, where a huge parade and rally mark the forty-ninth anniversary of the Republic of China. President Chiang Kai-shek takes the salute, as thirteen thousand men march down the main street of Taipei in an impressive show of military force. Two million people watch. The parade also marks the eleventh national birthday of the Nationalist government on Formosa. During the ceremonies, President Chiang predicts large-scale uprisings in Communist China. He repeats his government's determination to defend the islands of Quemoy and Matsu. It's quite a show in Taipei!

PORTRAIT OF IKE ON HIS 70TH BIRTHDAY

Crowds on the White House lawn chant "Happy Birthday, Dear Ike." And indeed it is a joyous event -- and historic, too: for never before has an American become three score and ten while holding the office of President. The enthusiasm of the well-wishers is overwhelming, to say the least! The good natured celebration continues with the President helping to plant a red oak tree, the gift of the people of the District of Columbia. By proclamation, this is Dwight D. Eisenhower Day in the capital -- leading the President to remark that by their presence on this, his 70th birthday, the large crowd gives him "encouragement and strength for the paths that still lie ahead."

"A GIRL CAN DREAM, CAN'T SHE?"

Every girl, no doubt, has her dreams of luxury and, as a future homemaker, even a luxurious quilted bedspread can set her mind to wandering. If it provides such super-comfort and warmth -- and is so light -- why can't it be fashioned into something to wear? Wafted on the wings of her dreams.....she find Dame Fashion eager to lend an assist.....and with the magic word: "Pouff!".....she's clad in a quilted pile parka, non-bulky, and so warming.....it's enough to turn a girl's head! To think it's the same fabric as the bedspread. In a room featuring simba fabric, also by Princeton Mills, she next finds the leopard effect of spread and pillows positively irresistible! Now, this would certainly make a sophisticated outfit... let's see what a stylish designer can come up with. There now! a molded evening dress, with short evening jacket.....and note the collar treatment. Our dream girl find still another fashion idea, good enough to wear. A bedroom featuring an all-plaid design.....and that's certainly the cue for something like this! plaid culottes, the season's newest fashion. There's a plaid cardigan jacket to match. Dreaming, will make it so.....

SYRACUSE STOPS PENN STATE

Forty thousand at Syracuse watch the national college champs take on Penn State. In the first quarter, Ernie Davis makes it for 18 yards and a touchdown, to get Syracuse headed for its 15th straight win. But Penn State fights back, Don Jonas picking up 15 yards with the score tied 7-7 in the third period. Galen Hall fades back to pass, but it looks as if he's going to have a hard time getting it off. And it's intercepted by Mark Weber of Syracuse, who scoots down the sideline to put the Orangemen ahead by a touchdown. Penn State hangs on. In the fourth period, Syracuse is forced to punt. The ball goes to Jonas. Dave Hayes forces his way through the Syracuse line for 5 yards. Hall fools everybody before making a touchdown pass to Dick Pae. Still Syracuse wins 21-15.

IOWA DOWNS WISCONSIN

Iowa and Wisconsin, both unbeaten, clash before 57 thousand at Iowa City. With his team leading by a touchdown in the fourth period, Iowa's Wilburn Hollis hits James Winston for a 31-yard gain. This time Hollis fakes and heads for the outside. IOWA leads, 21-7. But the Badgers bounce back. Ron Miller throws one to Tom Wiesner. Fifty yards on the play -- with 20 yards left to go.