

THESE CATS HAVE CLASS.

If you take cats seriously, you'd love Olympia on the Championship Day of the National Cat Clubs. And who wouldn't fall for Siamese Kittens? Seven guineas would buy any one of these.

Turkey is nearer home than Siam, so that may be why their Vans cats are more like ours.

Blue Persians remain warm favourites, through all changes of fashion.

Abyssinians are becoming popular.

Catherine and Elizabeth Chatterton (twins) own the cat judged Best of the Show, Littlewickers Blue Serge.

Too big for Olympia is a cat of another sort. He's a Cheeta, but quite honest, or Andre Mercier wouldn't give it a home in his apartment. My dinner ready? Ah, here we are. And I didn't have to kill it myself.

I think I'll take a stroll now. They like me to go out for five minutes, before bedtime. I'll let myself out.
