

SCOTS GO SKIING.

Switzerland must look to its laurels, Glencoe today is calling all skiers. On the day Pathe News cameramen filmed the scene the snow was in good condition and experts said that, on such days, Switzerland has nothing on the Scottish Highlands.

Nowadays they go up the easy way. The chair lift takes away all that back-breaking climb up, which used to daunt all but the most enthusiastic. They gain in another way too, as they are carried high over the scene.

There is one draw-back to going up as a passenger, it can be very cold. The wise man carries a wee dram. Anyhow the blood starts tingling and they're warm as toast as soon as they get going.

Towards midnight on the 31st; the ideal way to usher in the New Year.

No snow in London, no mountains, no skis. But certainly no shortage of gaiety on New Year's Eve. Trafalgar Square saw the hipsters in full swing.

What difference do 100 arrests make. If you wanted to be cool man, this was the time and the place.

Why should the men have all the fun? Let's make it mixed bathing.

It does make you wonder if the police wouldn't be wiser to leave the revellers to themselves. The bobbies could be at home drinking a toast to their thousand a year. Jocks were determined to make 1961 a happy year, or fall over backwards in the attempt...
