

THE DUKE OF KENT ENGAGED.

It's going to be a June wedding for the Duke of Kent and Miss Katharine Worsley. The romance which was only hinted at in the past few months is now a fact. The ring, a large sapphire with a large diamond on each side.

The Duchess of Kent was at Kensington Palace with Miss Worsley's parents. Sir William Worsley is Lord Lieutenant of the North Riding of Yorkshire; the family seat, Hovingham Hall. The wedding will be at York Minister.

Princess Alexandra joined the party. The Duke first met his bride-to-be when he was stationed at Catterick. They have been good friends ever since. The Queen's permission to announce the engagement has been graciously accorded. The whole Nation is looking forward to next June.
