

AUSTRALIA'S BIG SHOW

Cattle Judging was one of the high spots on opening day at the famous Sydney Show, and 130,000 attended, despite the weather - dull and cool - though plenty warm enough for the log-choppers.

Under cover, the Agricultural stands displayed the products of several districts, including some from New Guinea; with reminders that not so long ago, life there was on the primitive side.

There was plenty for the youngsters too. All he wanted for to drink pop.

All Pop wanted was to drink.

Mum had a lot to carry - in every way.

To round up the day, Australia's best rough riders had the roughest ride for many a year. Mostly, victory went to the bronks.

The riders do it for money - the horses do it for kicks!
