

LOOK OUT, BANDITS:

Never mind bandits, for the time being; here's Scotland Yards road accident vehicle. It's a hundred mile an hour estate car, very fully equipped and carrying a crew of four, all of them highly experienced in what to do on the site of an accident.

There are tools for getting at passengers when doors are jammed, fire extinguishers and a lot more.

To chase the bandits there's the 130 m-p-h. Daimler Dart. That's not it only work. It will help to curb motor bike speed-hogs, trying to do a hundred in built-up areas. Secret of the Dart's performance is the V-8 engine. Price, about fifteen hundred.
