

SMALL FRY PROVIDE BIG RODEO THRILLS.

They start 'em early out at Salinas, California, where the 16th annual Junior Championship Rodeo provides as many spills as a grown-up meet. These youngsters were riding the range when their contemporaries were yet on hobby horses ... but they can still panic. The junior cow-pokes are all ages up to seventeen, when they graduate to the big time. This kid's a shorty....and so is his ride. An older hand is having a nice little canter, until... That for you, you ornery calf. The girls out here are as game as the boys. Nice try, and no hard feelings, we hope.
