

RUSSIAN HORSE SALE.

The first sale of Russian horses in Britain since the Revolution draws a big crowd to Crippenden Manor, near Lingfield. Pigalisa, a four-year-old bay filly from the Rostov region.

Paseka, also a filly but a year younger and a hand higher, catches the eye of Lord Bathurst's agent, who eventually buys her for 300 guineas.

For Integral, an Anglo-Kabardin gelding, Pat Moss tried a bid...

Here comes the only Arab filly on offer - four-year-old Kaplia.

The day's total - nearly 9,000 guineas.
