AUSSIES ARRIVE IN ENGLAND

They're here after a journey of thirteen thousand miles.

The men from the wide open spaces.... to form the first unit in Europe of the Royal Australian Air Force.

Each man is already fully trained.....as a pilot.... gunner..... observer or ground engineer. Its the writing on the wall for Hitler and his crew.

They ought to know now that winning the war is as much the business of the Empire as of Britain alone. The sacrifices of one will be shared by all.

So here's a proud hello to the Aussies and their leader.... Wing Commander Lachal... who reads a message from Australia's High Commissioner.....

When they bag their first Nazi plane..... ~~you'll~~ they'll hear their Co-ee way back in Australia
