WESTERN FRONT FLARES UP.

Along a hundred and fifty miles .... the Artillery of the Allies rears into action, and into action too goes the Newsreel camera.
Right up in the front lines are the French Light and Medium Guns.
They aim across and beyond the enemy lines. ... at the Nazi Batteries.
And further back .... hidden among the trees..... the Heavy Artillery.

These mighty pieces send giant shells..... across the Nazi Lines of supply. They destroy their ammunition dumps, their stores and bases.

And now you are to see the mightiest of all... the sixteen inch railway guns. Four of the newest monsters are being christened... their names are memories of the past. glories of the French Artillery.

COENILLET, the scene of a famous gun battle in the last war.

ANDREONE... In memory of men who fell at their guns in nineteen seventeen.

The size of these guns is almost fantastic .....and as they too go into action, you're watching the thunderous knock out Punch.... that helps an Army to win a war.
