DIG FOR VICTORY.

Northern Ireland is making a superb war effort.

In nineteen forty she plans to place a quarter of a million more acres under the plough....For food production. Today her Minister of Agriculture Sir Basil Brooke, watches the first stage... a demonstration of the new tractors that have been imported. And on such an important occasion why shouldn't Sir Basil have a go himself. You might think these pictures were taken far out in the country. ... but actually they're just in front of Government House Belfast. A demonstration to the Farmers of the mechanised farming of the 20th Century. So Northern Ireland plans to become the Granary of Britain. She's ploughing her way towards victory.
