FRENCH "HEAVIES" IN ACTION.

France's latest guns go into action on the Western front. They're eleven inch Howitzers mounted on heavy tractors .... as large as the big guns on the scuttled Graf Spee. But their size isn't their main feature. In spite of their enormous weight.. ... they can move with almost the ease of the lightest field gun. Their crews can set up. ... fire a given number of rounds, and be off again before the enemy has had a chance of spotting their position. You might almost call it sniping with heavy artillery. They're loaded, and now they're going to make a mess of something, somewhere... in Germany.
